Dear Parent/Guardian

Free flu vaccine for children aged 6 months to under 5 years

Earlier this year, the ACT Government announced it will provide a free influenza ('flu') vaccine to children from six months to under five years of age to help protect them from getting sick this flu season.

Whilst the supply of Government funded vaccine was briefly interrupted recently, vaccines are still available free for children in this age group.

You can get the free flu vaccine for your child through your usual immunisation provider, including your General Practitioner (GP) or ACT Health Early Childhood Immunisation Clinics. Families should be aware that GPs may charge a consultation fee.

The 2017 flu season was a particularly bad season around the country. In the ACT, children under five years were most affected. We know children under five years of age are at increased risk of hospitalisation and severe illness, including death, from flu. Young children also contribute significantly to influenza transmission in the community.

A yearly flu vaccine is the best way to reduce the risk of your child getting sick with the flu and spreading it to others.

Generally the flu season usually occurs during winter and spring, however it is never too late to have your child vaccinated. It is important to know that if your child is receiving the vaccine for the first time, they will require two doses at least four weeks apart.
